

THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 2014

Velasquez brings home national leadership award

KIM EAGLE
STAFF WRITER

Uvalde's own Christina Velasquez is a perfect example of how commitment, motivation, and professionalism in the workplace can lead to extraordinary accomplishments.

The 10-year employee of Community Health Development Inc. recently won the 2014 Emerging Leader Award from the National Association of Community Health Centers.

Velasquez, a 2001 Uvalde High School graduate and mother of two, learned earlier this

JIMMY HANSON

Christina Velasquez (center) poses with her award after being honored with the 2014 Emerging Leader Award in Washington D.C. on March 22.

PLEASE SEE LEADER, PAGE 16